

COLORADO HEALTH NEIGHBORHOODS

CONNECTED TO YOU

Welcome to Colorado Health Neighborhoods

Through an innovative approach to delivery that we call health neighborhoods, our goal is to provide a clinically-integrated, coordinated and comprehensive approach to caring for our communities. The health neighborhood is built around physician-led teams that use evidence-based medicine and best practices. The focus is on delivering high value care that offers outstanding outcomes, service and convenience while also controlling costs.

Distinctly different from the fragmented medical care available in most communities today, Colorado Health Neighborhoods is built upon a model of collaboration and integration that seamlessly incorporates the key components of optimal health – primary care, specialty services, urgent care, diagnostic services and occupational health, moving beyond the walls of our hospitals to meet the needs of the communities we serve.

Keeping communities healthy

The vision we have for the health of all Coloradans is one where a circle of health care services consistently surrounds an individual no matter where they go or what their health and wellness needs might be through their lifetime.

The next generation of health care

Traditionally, health care has been reactive and focused more on health crisis and the physician and the hospital rather than the consumer. Through health neighborhoods, we are moving past the "bricks and mortar" model of health care delivered within the walls of our hospitals which is associated with "sick care," and shifting the entire paradigm of traditional health care delivery to focus more on keeping populations healthy. We view health in holistic terms as the combination of physical, spiritual, mental and social health. We believe every person is on a healthy life-cycle, and many of us will encounter one or more health crises during our lifetime. Our challenge is to think proactively rather than reactively to effectively manage these health crises and return to our normal healthy life-cycle as quickly as possible.

A mission to provide better health care outcomes

Grounded in our 125-year plus legacy as Colorado's health care leader, Centura Health's sheer size and scope provides us with a unique vantage point to re-engineer the health care industry and create a health care delivery model that consumers will come to expect. We are the largest health care network in the state, offering the greatest availability of, and accessibility to, health care services across the full continuum of need. Our success will ultimately be measured by how we positively impact the health of the citizens of Colorado, which will lead to lower health care costs and better health outcomes for all.

A partnership focused on health

The neighborhood approach encourages consumers to take care of themselves along the way, making it easy and convenient to get important checkups and screenings, thereby increasing the chances of early detection and mitigation of significant health issues.

As partners, we'll work proactively with the full complement of support tools, coaches and specialists to monitor consumers' health in order to help detect and address conditions before they become chronic concerns. Consumers will also have access to online tools, coaches and specialists to further support managing their individual health needs.

By promoting wellness and educating consumers to more actively participate in their health, we believe they will utilize the health care system differently, more effectively and at a lower cost to keep them healthy.

Optimized to serve our communities

Our new health neighborhoods approach includes acute care, the state's largest multi-specialty physician practice, a health resource center, occupational health services, and home care and hospice, to make a wide array of health care services easily accessible. Each health neighborhood will be optimized to serve its community. In some areas, that might mean pairing a primary care practice with visiting specialists and telehealth services. In others, it will include bringing together, primary care, specialists, imaging and laboratory services, along with a complete acute care hospital.
