EXECUTIVE ORDER

Recreating and Reauthorizing the Denver Metropolitan Area Regional Air Quality Council

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Office of the Governor of the State of Colorado, I, Bill Ritter Jr., Governor of the State of Colorado, hereby issue this Executive Order recreating and reauthorizing the Regional Air Quality Council as an air-quality planning agency for the Denver metropolitan area.

1. Background and Purpose

The quality of life in the Denver metropolitan area and in the State of Colorado is significantly affected by air quality. Elevated ambient concentrations of ozone and suspended fine particulate matter continue to pose a threat to public health, especially for children and vulnerable populations. In the past, Colorado front range communities regularly violated federal air pollution standards, and the Denver metropolitan area violated five of the six criteria air pollutant standards set forth by the federal Clean Air Act.

The State of Colorado, and in particular the Denver metropolitan area, has experienced a significant improvement in air quality over the past several years, leading to a long-term trend of compliance with federal air quality standards. Numerous factors have contributed to improved air quality in the Denver metropolitan area, including the adoption of new technologies, local government participation in air quality planning, community initiatives, and private sector involvement.

Despite these improvements, continued efforts to protect the health and well-being of all Coloradoans is needed. The trend of air quality improvement in the Denver metropolitan area and surrounding communities requires a focused effort involving community, state government, and private sector participation.

The Regional Air Quality Council has proven to be an important component in the State of Colorado's strategy to improve air quality and coordinate air quality planning initiatives for the Denver metropolitan area. The Regional Air Quality Council plays a valuable role in the preparation of air quality plans for this region and in the implementation of programs that help to improve air quality.

The Governor of the State of Colorado, pursuant to the federal Clean Air Act, 42 U.S.C. § 7504, is authorized to designate a lead agency for air quality planning with the responsibility to prepare air quality plans for the region to demonstrate and ensure long-term compliance with federal air quality standards.
