

Income Tax - Employee Benefit Plan

Does Colorado follow the technical changes made to the Economic Growth and Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2001 concerning catch-up contributions to employee benefit plans?

Yes, Colorado tax law follows the federal rules in this area. Any effect the catch-up contributions have on federal taxable income will flow automatically to line 1 of the Colorado income tax return.