

Withholding Tax - Fee

Is there a fee for obtaining a wage withholding account?

No. There is no fee if you are only applying for a wage withholding account number. If you are obtaining a sales tax license and a trade name for your business at the same time you are applying for a wage withholding account, there will be a $16 sales tax license fee, plus a $50 deposit and an $8 registration fee for a trade name. But these fees do not pertain to obtaining a wage withholding tax account.