Welcome

Colleagues,

Welcome to the Procurement Advisory Council Spring Summit. We are very excited you are attending and we feel confident that you will find value in participating today.

As I welcome you today, I think of what it means to be a part of our unique community of procurement professionals. Each of us should share the pride of belonging to this community that brings integrity, value and professionalism to the state. I encourage you today to get a little out of your comfort zone and meet some new people. Take the time to engage in thoughtful conversation with your peers. Actively listen for areas where you can provide assistance and don't be afraid to ask for help or for someone's perspective on challenges you might be facing.

It has been said that there is strength in numbers but we are only as strong as we lend ourselves to be.

Yours in Procurement Excellence,

Judson Byrn
State Purchasing Director
