Behavioral Telehealth

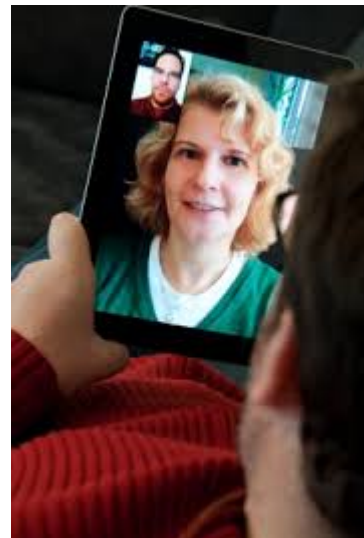

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW:

The psychologist-patient relationship needs to be established.

- (a) This relationship is established through assessment, diagnosis and treatment of the patient. Two-way live audio / video services are among acceptable methods to 'establish' a patient relationship.
- (b) The patient is required to provide the appropriate consent for treatment.

Codes that may be used for telemedicine services when appended by modifier 95 to indicate synchronous telemedicine service rendered via a real-time interactive audio and video telecommunications system:

CPT®	2019 Fee Schedule Amount + modifier 95*
90791	$ 713.52 + $5.00
90792	$ 800.64 + $5.00
90832	$ 132.48 + $5.00
90833	$ 138.24 + $5.00
90834	$ 177.12 + $5.00
90836	$ 174.24 + $5.00
90837	$ 265.68 + $5.00
90838	$ 230.40 + $5.00
90845	$ 190.08 + $5.00
90846	$ 213.84 + $5.00
90847	$ 222.48 + $5.00
90863	$ 53.28 + $5.00

Evaluation and Management services may also be rendered via telehealth. *The rates listed above are for licensed psychologists (PsyD, PhD, EdD). Other non-physician providers performing these services are paid at 85% of the allowed fees.

All healthcare services provided through telehealth or telemedicine shall comply with the applicable requirements found in the Colorado Medical Practice Act and Colorado Mental Health Practice Act, as well as the rules and policies adopted by the Colorado Medical Board and the Colorado Board of Psychologist Examiners.
