

COLORADO

FOCUS GROUP

We want to hear your voice!

We want to talk to the following groups:

- People living with mental illness
- People with an intellectual or developmental disability
- People with traumatic or acquired brain injury
- People with HIV/AIDS
- People with a Spinal Cord injury, who are blind, or have a different disability
- Families of children with an intellectual or developmental disability
- Families of children with a life-limiting illness
- Adults over the age of 65 with a disability

What you have to say will help the state of Colorado be more person-centered in the way it provides Home and Community Based (HCBS) services to its citizens. The Colorado Department of Health Care Policy and Financing (HCPF) asked us, CQL | The Council on Quality and Leadership, to talk with people who receive services through the HCBS program.

As a person who receive supports you are, clearly, in a position to use your experiences to guide and improve person-centered services throughout Colorado. If you are chosen to participate in these meetings, called Focus Groups, you will be one of up to fifteen (15) people who will share their ideas for improved services.

During the Focus Groups, we will discuss things like:

- Is eligibility determination focused on you? Do you feel welcomed and heard?
- Is the assessment of your needs fair and accurate?
- Does it appear that case managers are interested in your needs?
- Does your case manager give you options?
- Do you decide what supports and services you need?

Here are the dates, times, and locations of each session:

Review the list and then either call Cate Adelman (815) 973-6776 or go to www.c-q-l.org/COfocusgroup. Tell us what sessions work best for you and what other information we may need to know for you to participate. We want to be sure that there are representatives from each group.
