This is a request to prepare a regulatory analysis per section 24-4-103 (4.5) (a), C.R.S., for rules proposed by the State Controller, Department of Personnel and Administration.

The proposed rules completely delete all existing rules and replace them with new rules. The proposed fiscal rules are 105 pages long which are more than double the current 50 pages of fiscal rules. This is not just an update of fiscal rules. This is a massive comprehensive rewrite impacting every aspect of fiscal policy and operations for the State of Colorado that clearly needs a thorough regulatory analysis prior to implementation.

Thanks for your help and let me know if you have any questions.

You are receiving this email because you have been identified as someone who may be impacted by the proposed rulemaking activity identified below.

This is the notification to inform you that the State Controllers Office in the Colorado Department of Personnel & Administration will conduct a rulemaking hearing on the repeal and adoption of the State's Fiscal Rules (Rule 1 CCR 101-1). The general purpose of this hearing is to clarify rule language to comply with federal rules, regulations and guidance; align rules with the State's new Procurement Modernization Act; correct typographic errors and update rule language to comport with contemporary practices; and update rules as they relate to CORE. The hearing will be held:

Wednesday, May 2, 2018

1525 Sherman Street, Room 104, First Floor

Denver, Colorado 80203

2:30 p.m.

Copies of the notice, statement of basis & purpose, and proposed rules are attached, and also can be found on-line at: <https://www.colorado.gov/dpa> under the "What's New" column, or via this link

Mr. Grier:

The DORA Office of Policy, Research and Regulatory Reform determined that no cost benefit analysis was necessary. I have attached the language of their response below. I am not sure why you did not receive a copy of their reply.

Thanks,
Doug

The deadline for public cost-benefit analysis requests has passed for the following proposed rule(s):

Department: Department of Personnel and Administration
Rulemaking Office of the State Controller
Agency:
Rule ID: 7403
Title or Subject: State Fiscal Rules Repeal and Reenact

One public request was received by the deadline.

A cost-benefit analysis is NOT required and the review findings are as follows:

No CBA required. The request lacked sufficient specificity.

Thank you.

Colorado Office of Policy, Research and Regulatory Reform

I did receive a copy of their response. However, I requested a regulatory analysis from DPA which is a different statutory requirement. Unlike the cost benefit analysis, a regulatory analysis has no statutory language that allows it to be ignored.

Was the regulatory analysis not completed?

Thanks,
Dave
