Senate Bill 12-133: The Electronic Recycling Jobs Act Publication Information for the Regulated Community

(Overview and Editing)

Overview

This toolkit includes e-waste outreach and education materials for waste facilities and other regulated entities, such as waste haulers, transfer stations or recyclers. Spanish versions are being developed for each tool, and will be available soon. A list of the materials available in this toolkit follows:

- Attention Sign: This sign is to be placed at the entrance(s) of waste facilities. It lists the consumer electronics that are not allowed to be disposed of in a landfill, according to the law. Items are listed using English-language words, graphics and limited Spanish words. This sign also offers the website address for additional information.
- Fact Sheet – Facilities: Designed for those employed in waste management, this fact sheet explains the Electronic Recycling Jobs Act. It is similar to the brochure, but more compressed and word-heavy.
- Fact Sheet – Public: This fact sheet provides the general public with information about the Electronic Recycling Jobs Act. It is similar to the brochure, but more compressed and word-heavy.
- “Sorry” Stickers: These stickers may be placed on rejected e-waste items at curbside or facilities. The stickers explain that the new law does not allow disposal of the e-waste item and refers the consumer to the web for additional information.
- PSAs/Hold Messages: These public service announcements (PSAs) promote e-waste law awareness. They are each approximately 30 seconds long and can be used for telephone hold messages or on-air promotions.
- Labels: These stickers can be placed on anything — particularly pocket folders used with press kits or information packets.

- Electronic Recycling Jobs Act: This PDF is the text of the statute.
- Talking Points: These talking points are brief and simple highlights of the law.

Editing Options

1. Edit in-house
2. Send request to Kate Lemon, public information specialist, Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment

1. Edit in-house

A number of programs can be used to adapt these materials to your local audience. To accommodate the many different editing programs in use around the state, all files also have been uploaded as .jpg files (photo files) alongside the PDF files. A .jpg file can be opened and edited in a number of programs, such as Adobe Photoshop, Adobe InDesign, Microsoft Publisher, Microsoft Office Picture Manager or Microsoft Paint.

Although customization is encouraged, please remember the outreach campaign will be more effective if wording and imagery remain consistent throughout the state. Please keep your edits minimal and straightforward. For example:

- Add your logo(s) to boost regional attention and support
- Replace the word “Colorado” in the title of posters or the brochure with the name of your town, county, or region, i.e., “You are the key to a greener Grand Junction.”

The brochure has been designed specifically so you can remove the e-waste recycle bin image from the “Protect Your Privacy” panel and insert local or regional information, such as a list of e-waste recycling centers, local government contacts or a schedule of collection events .

Before Printing – Important!

All of the .jpg files’ color codes are RGB by default: set up to be viewed online only. To print .jpg files, convert the color code to CMYK or convert to PDF.
