The Colorado Certified Potato Growers Association - quality is as high as our mountains!

The CCPGA consists of 36 seed potato growers and their families, committed to a high level of potato seed production. We grow over 200 different varieties of potatoes, giving you a wide selection to choose from. Our days are sunny and our nights are cool, and our seed is grown in Colorado's San Luis Valley at an elevation of 7,500-plus feet which allows vigor in each seed piece. Please come by our booth and see what the High Altitude Advantage can do for you.

We will have over 40 different potato varieties for you to view at our booth, including russets, red flesh-red skinned, yellows, purples, red skin-yellow flesh, purple skin-yellow flesh, and many, many more.

Surrounded by the Colorado Rocky Mountains, we enjoy a natural mountain barrier and cold winters. The climate gives our green-grown produce a “high altitude vigor” that you will be able to taste!

We are one of the top producers of fingerling potatoes, including LaRatte and Austrian. Our product is distributed to many of the major retailers as a full time offering. Our Willie Myers label fingerlings are available in several retail packs including 2, 4 and 5 lb. bags. Buyer’s label fingerlings available. Food Service Packs: 50# cartons, RPC or Bulk mini bags.

Today’s consumers are looking for great taste and convenience - at home or on-the-go, fingerling potatoes fit the bill.

Rocky Ford is a special place. Maybe it's our blazing hot days and crisp, cool nights that lock in the sweet, juicy taste of summer. Maybe it's our sun-drenched altitude, nutrient-packed soils, or snowmelt irrigation. Whatever it is that makes Rocky Ford special, our world-famous melons are the standard to which all others aspire. Products: watermelon, cantaloupe, honeydew, minidoos.

"Olathe Sweet" Sweet Corn

59751 David Rd.
Olathe, CO 81425
United States
970-323-6874

Grown in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains and irrigated with melted snow, "Olathe Sweet" Sweet Corn is the sweetest corn on the market. Due to the tenderness of the "Olathe Sweet" Sweet Corn, each ear is handpicked and packed July-September. Colorado's cool nights and warm days, along with a timely harvest, make it not only the sweetest, but also the freshest sweet corn in America. Since 1985, Tuxedo Corn Company has been the only grower/shipper of both conventional and organic "Olathe Sweet" Sweet Corn in Olathe, CO.

In addition to sweet corn, Tuxedo Corn Company also grows and markets fresh market onions in late August-September, storage onions in November-February, and organically grown summer and winter squash in July-September.

Pueblo Chile Growers Association

c/o Pueblo County Economic Development
215 W 10th St.
Pueblo, CO 81003
United States
719-583-6240

Grown with Colorado sunshine and Rocky Mountain water, the flavorful Pueblo Mirasol Chile is grown in and around Pueblo, CO and has been on family tables and infused into local cuisine for generations. These chiles could formerly only be purchased locally, but are now being grown, processed and distributed on a larger scale for more communities to enjoy their meaty texture and unique flavor. The Pueblo Mirasol Chile grows pointing up facing the sun, therefore the name Mirasol (Spanish for facing the sun). The Mirasol is between 3-5 inches long and ¼ inches wide with a Scoville range between 2,500 – 5,000. The Mirasol has a unique spicy flavor and is compared to berries and other fruit. Brought to you by Pueblo County and the newly-established Pueblo Chile Growers Association.
