Colorado Division of Gaming Stakeholders and Other Interested Parties,

On behalf of the Colorado Department of Revenue and the Executive Director, I am pleased to announce the appointment of Flavio Quintana as the Director of the Colorado Division of Gaming. His appointment will become effective upon the retirement of Laura Manning as the current Division Director at the end of February.

Flavio began his career at the Division as an auditor back in 1996. Since that time, he has faithfully served the Division and the casino industry in Colorado in roles including Audit Manager, Agent in Charge of Licensing and Background Investigations, and most recently as the Chief of Investigations and Enforcement. Flavio brings to this position a wealth of knowledge and broad based experience in areas including auditing, systems, investigations and regulatory enforcement. In every situation in which Flavio has taken on greater responsibilities at the Division, he has raised the bar in terms of expectations and performance.

Flavio shares the same values that the leadership at the Department and the Colorado Limited Gaming Control Commission champion; collaboration, transparency and customer service. Flavio will continue to work with industry stakeholders to foster strong working relationships and open communication. Under Flavio's leadership, the Division will continue to be open and transparent about our approach to regulation. Flavio will also remain customer focused and always mindful of ways to improve the customer experience and the Division's ability to respond to customer needs. The Department has every confidence that Flavio will continue to embrace and support the same values and commitment to serving the casino industry and the citizens of Colorado that have been the bedrock on which the Division was created more than 23 years ago.

I would be remiss if I didn't take this opportunity to thank our outgoing Director, Laura Manning, for her leadership, dedication, professionalism and service to the Division and the State of Colorado for over 23 years. Laura has made many lasting contributions to the success and the excellent reputation the Division has enjoyed over the years. We wish Laura the very best as she transitions into retirement and begins a new phase in her life.

Sincerely,

Ron Kammerzell
Senior Director of Enforcement
